

Contact:

Tierney Tully

NAF Publications

PO Box 137

Chaplin, CT 06235

Phone: (860) 455-4424

Email: director@nationalacupuncturefoundation.org

March 10, 2005

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

New Edition of the Acupuncture Laws Book

“Acupuncture and Oriental Medicine State Laws and Regulations, 2005 Edition”

(NAF Publications; March 2005/$39.95) is your one-stop resource for information about the regulation of the practice of acupuncture in the United States. Forty states now have statutes governing the practice of acupuncture and no two are alike.

The seventh edition of this widely popular guide to acupuncture and Oriental medicine regulation in the United States is a "must have" reference for timely information on the regulation of acupuncture practice in the United States. Individual state listings include scope of practice, educational requirements for licensure, insurance reimbursement, and contact information for the regulating agency. The book also provides at-a-glance tables comparing state information. New to this edition is an introductory chapter on the regulatory process, the development of standards for the profession, and the practice of acupuncture by healthcare practitioners other than professional acupuncturists. The book also provides listings of additional resources of information about this exciting and rewarding healthcare field.

Whether you are a student of Oriental medicine, a state regulator, a practitioner ready to move to another state, or a patient wanting assurance about your practitioner's competency, this book will assist you in making informed decisions and intelligent plans.

Acupuncture and Oriental Medicine State Laws and Regulations

March 2005

ISBN# 0-9670262-9-6

$39.95

ABOUT NAF Publications:

NAF Publications is an imprint of the National Acupuncture Foundation. The National Acupuncture Foundation is a 501(c)(3) nonprofit organization, serving the acupuncture and Oriental Medicine profession since 1992. In addition to its publications, the NAF supports education and research in the field of acupuncture and Oriental medicine and provides information and education to the public. You can find additional information on the NAF and its activities at www.nationalacupuncturefoundation.org.

NAF Publications

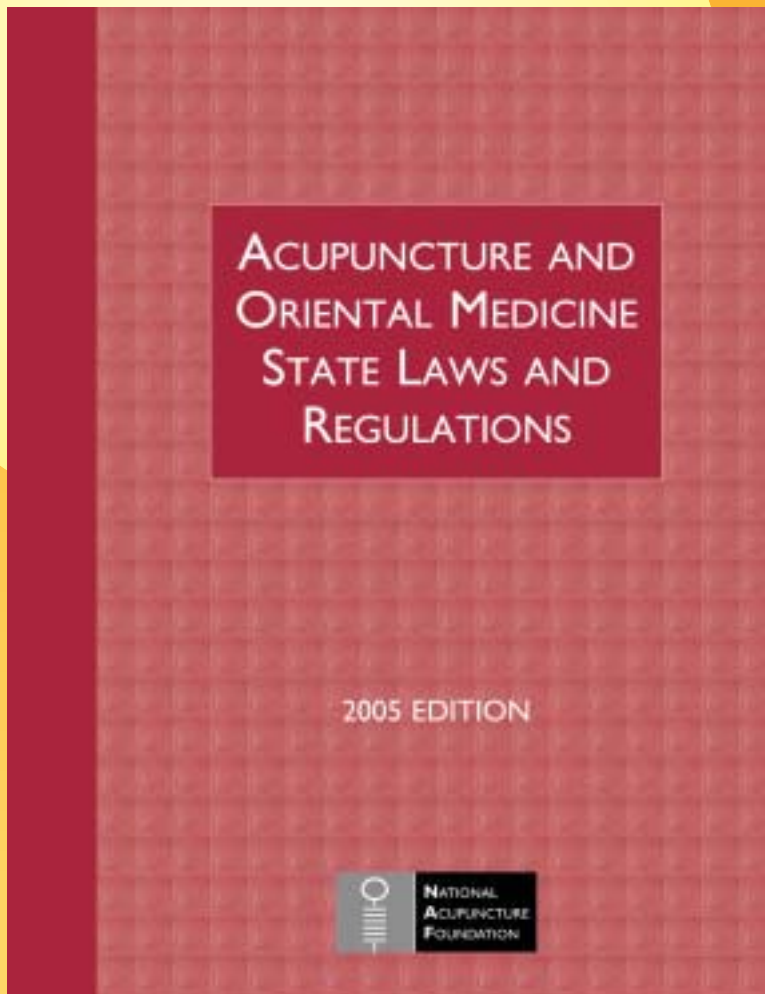

PO Box 137

Chaplin, CT

Phone: (860) 455-4424

Email: director@nationalacupuncturefoundation.org

$39.95 - 8 1/2" X11"
250 pages - soft cover - perfect bound
ISBN 0-9670262-9-6
March 2005

State Acupuncture Regulations at Your Finger Tips

A "must have" reference book for anyone needing timely information on the regulation of AOM in the United States. Individual state listings include scope of practice, educational requirements for licensure, insurance reimbursement, and contact information for the regulating agency. The book also provides at-a-glance tables comparing state information. New to this edition is an introductory chapter on the regulatory process, the development of standards for the profession, and the practice of acupuncture by healthcare practitioners other than professional acupuncturists.

AOM State Laws and Regulations has been compiled and edited by NAF staff. You can find more information about this and other NAF publications on our web site at www.nationalacupuncturefoundation.org

Order information at: www.nationalacupuncturefoundation.org
NAF Publications (860) 455-4424; director@nationalacupuncturefoundation.org